

RCPA NZ ASM 2019 Scientific Program – Anatomical Pathology

Friday 15 – Sunday 17 November 2019 Rydges Queenstown

Friday 15 November 2019 – Anatomical Pathology
8.30-9.00am	Registration Open
9.00-10.30am	IGENZ Trainee Oral Presentations There are 5 presentation places available please email evcp@rcpa.edu.au by Friday 28 June 2019 if you are interested. Best Trainee Oral Presentation awarded $1000NZD sponsored by IGENZ
10.30-11.00am	Morning Tea
11.00-12.30pm	A practical guide to problems reporting uterine specimens. Common... Dr Diane Kenwright and not-so-common. Dr Rachael van der Griend
12.30-1.30pm	Lunch
1.30-3.00pm	Molecular Classification of Colorectal Cancer Dr Masato Yozu Renewed Australian Cervical Screening Program Year 1 – Cervical screening result analysis Ms Julia Pagliuso Why does my brain hurt? cognitive load differences between novice and expert pathologists Dr Amanda Charlton
3.00-3.30pm	Afternoon Tea
3.30-4.30pm	AB Pearson Memorial Lecture Attack on AA 77 and the Pentagon Dr Andrew Baker
4.30-5.00pm	RCPA AGM – All welcome and encouraged to attend
5.00-7.00pm	NZSP President's Welcome Cocktail Party at the QT Queenstown Reds Bar sponsored by the RCPA Quality Assurance Programs

RCPA: NZ ASM 2019 Scientific Program – Anatomical Pathology

Friday 15 – Sunday 17 November 2019 Rydges Queenstown

Saturday 16 November 2019: Anatomical & Forensic Pathology sponsored by Sysmex
8.00- 9.00am	Sysmex Delphic AP user group Discussion on enhancing the user experience for pathologists and addressing future needs Ms Deborah Steele
9.00-10.30am	Unusual child deaths - Part one. Dr Andrew Baker Updates in pulmonary pathology (neoplastic and non-neoplastic) Dr Annabelle Mahar
10.30-11.00am	Morning Tea
11.00-12.30pm	Unusual child deaths - Part two. Dr Andrew Baker Pitfalls in pleuropulmonary pathology Dr Annabelle Mahar
12.30-1.30pm	Lunchj- IGENZ Oral and Poster Winners announced
1.30-3.00pm	Sudden cardiac death—it's more than just garden-variety coronary atherosclerosis! Dr Andrew Baker A practical and pragmatic approach to challenging breast lesions Prof Sandra O'Toole
3.00-3.30pm	Afternoon Tea
3.30-5.00pm	Drug-related deaths Dr Andrew Baker What do I need to know about molecular pathology as a tissue pathologist? – a pragmatic approach to the genomic revolution Prof Sandra O'Toole
5.00-5.30pm	RCPANZ Annual General Meeting
5.30-6.00pm	NZ Society of Pathologists Annual General Meeting
6.00pm	Free night (due to the Queenstown Marathon we recommend you make a dinner booking well in advance to avoid disappointment)

RCPA: NZ ASM 2019 Scientific Program – Anatomical Pathology

Friday 15 – Sunday 17 November 2019 Rydges Queenstown

Sunday 17 November 2019: Anatomical Pathology
8.00 - 9.00am	Meet an Anatomical Pathology Examiner Dr Irene Low
9.00-10.30am	The clinical importance of CIN 2 in women under 25: Results of a large multicentre study Dr Peter Sykes Reporting cervical histopathology Dr Kathryn Payne Recording cervical cancers on the New Zealand Cancer Registry Ms Jennifer Bateson
10.30-11.00am	Morning Tea
11.00-12.30pm	Massive parallel sequencing of solid tumours – challenges and opportunities for pathologists Dr Gavin Harris GI biopsies. Pathology and endoscopy correlation Dr Vladimir Osipov
12.30-1.00pm	Lunch
1.00-2.30pm	A Practical Approach to Benign Vascular Lesions Dr Helen Brasch How to cope with mesenchymal tumours that make one feel the blues? Dr Irene Low
2.30-3.00pm	Afternoon Tea & Closing